Teens’ Online Rights Survey

Name:

Directions: Read each question and answer by circling Yes or No.

A. Is it acceptable for parents or guardians to read their teenager’s email? Yes/No

B. Is it acceptable for parents or guardians to read their teenager’s instant messages? Yes/No

C. Is it acceptable for parents or guardians to read their teenager’s chat room conversations? Yes/No

D. Is it acceptable for parents or guardians to listen in on their teenager’s phone conversations? Yes/No

E. Is it acceptable for parents or guardians to read their teenager’s diary? Yes/No

F. Do you think that your parents or guardians believe that it is acceptable to read your email? Yes/No

G. Do you think that your parents or guardians believe that it is acceptable to read your instant messages? Yes/No

H. Do you think that your parents or guardians believe that it is acceptable to read your chat room conversations? Yes/No

I. Do you think that your parents or guardians believe that it is acceptable to listen in on your phone conversations? Yes/No

J. Do you think that your parents or guardians believe that it is acceptable to read your diary? Yes/No

K. Do you think it is more acceptable for a parent or guardian to read a teenager’s emails and/or instant messages than it is to read a teenager’s diary? Yes/No

L. Are there reasons why a parent and/or guardian might benefit from “listening in” on their teenager’s conversations either online, in their diary, or on the phone? Yes/No

M. Are there reasons why teenagers might benefit from having their conversations monitored by their parents or guardians? Yes/No